

Congratulations to the 2013 Humanitarian of the Year

Colonel John W. Saputo USMCR is an individual who has demonstrated leadership and vision during his military career, in his business as President/Owner of Gold Coast Eagle Distributing of Sarasota, and through both his own and Gold Coast Eagle's commitment to philanthropy and community service. He stated this commitment to philanthropy and community service very well with these words: “Gold Coast Eagle and its employees believe in being an active partner within the community. We actively support and give back to the community, not for attention or accolades, but because there is a need. There are hundreds of organizations that strive to end an illness or a disease or to help those who cannot help themselves and as long as these groups exist, we will be here to help.”